RE: PwC Settlement Class in In re AIG Securities Litigation, Master
File No. 04-8141 (JES)

Gentlemen:

Per your instruction letter regarding the above referenced matter, I would request to be excluded from such settlement.

I acquired AIG shares when AIG acquired American General Corporation effective August 29, 2001. Please see attached Transaction Advice for Share exchange, exchange rate etc. I do not know the market price per share at that time. I have also enclosed a copy of my AIG common stock certificate no. 548945 in the amount of 472 shares for any additional information you may need.

I hope this information is sufficient to qualify me for the exclusion.

Sincerely,

Diane L. Englesby

Dear Madam:

The above named person, Zoe H. Parker, Trustee, requests exclusion from the PwC Settlement Class in re AIG Securities Litigation, Master File No. 04-8141 (JES). The amount of money I would get back would not be worth the trouble of keeping this on my file or having to report it on my income tax.

I purchased 100 shares of AIG common stock on 8/27/2003 at $60.5 per share for a cost of $6015.00. I sold the 100 shares on the advice of my stock broker before the big bust. The 100 shares were sold on 10/18/2004 at 59.12 per share for $5912.00 or a loss of $103 plus stockbroker fees. (See attached list.)

I fail to understand how AIG executives and company could be rewarded by a government handout, when what they did was criminal in nature and they should be prosecuted, fined and fired. Hopefully, the same persons are not running the organization.

I wish you all luck in getting back something for the stock owners who lost money and the tax payers.

 In the case of a short sale, total cost ordinarily equals the cost of the asset (including commissions, if any) when purchased for delivery when the sale is closed or covered. However, as cost basis is unknown until the date the short sale is closed or covered, the value Fidelity reports in the Cost Basis column is equal to the price at which the short sale was transacted (total sales proceeds). When calculating the unrealized gain/loss, Fidelity adds the negative value reported in the Closing Mkt Value Column to the positive value reported in the Cost Basis column.

• Fidelity-provided estimated cost basis (including cost basis and short sale proceeds information provided to Fidelity by customers) gain/loss and holding period information may not reflect all adjustments necessary for tax reporting purposes. You should verify such information against your own records when calculating reportable gain or loss resulting from a sale, redemption, or exchange. Fidelity does not report such information to the IRS or other taxing authorities and is not responsible for the accuracy of such information you may be required to report to federal, state, and other taxing authorities. Fidelity makes no warranties with respect to, and specifically disclaims any liability arising out of your use of, or any tax position taken in reliance upon, such information. Unless otherwise specified, Fidelity determines cost basis at the time of sale based on the average cost-single category (ACSC) method for open-end mutual funds and based on the first-in, first-out (FIFO) method for all other unrestricted securities. Consult a tax adviser for further information.

If securities held in your account are restricted for sale under your company's stock plan rules, Fidelity will use the FIFO method for lots available for sale.

Fidelity's cost basis information system has a cumulative lifetime limit on how much activity it can track for each individual security position in an account. For this purpose, each buy, sell, dividend, wash sale, disallowed loss, stock split, stock merger, etc., is an event. For some customers, this limit can be reached with approximately 1500 events. Cost basis information for events beyond that limit will usually show as "not available" or "unknown". In addition, any cost basis information shown may be outdated due to events occurring after the limit is exceeded. Once the limit is reached, all cost basis information for the affected position will need to be tracked and updated by the investor. Of course, investors will continue to receive confirms and account statements reflecting current transactions in their accounts. If you are uncertain if you have reached, or are near, the lifetime limit on a particular security position in your account, contact your Fidelity representative for more details.

If specific shares were selected manually rather than electronically, cost basis and gain/loss information displayed will be based on the first-in, first-out (FIFO) calculation method. You will need to refer to your trade confirmation for the lot(s) you selected, and calculate your gain/loss accordingly. In addition, you may need to re-calculate cost basis and gain (loss) information for other positions that were based on the first-in, first-out method to remove the effect of any tax lots that were specifically identified and allocated to other sales.

Smart move.

CHAIRMAN

August 31, 2001

To Former Holders of American General Common Stock:

We are pleased to report the completion of the acquisition of American General Corporation (American General) by American International Group, Inc. (AIG) effective August 29, 2001. We welcome you as an AIG shareholder.

As a result of the acquisition, the shares of American General common stock that you held of record on August 29, 2001 have been converted into shares of AIG common stock at the rate of 0.5790 a share of AIG common stock for each share of American General common stock, with cash to be paid in lieu of any fractional share interest based on an AIG common stock price of $77.23. The enclosed Letter of Transmittal includes instructions and forms for exchanging your American General common stock certificates for AIG common stock certificates.

We expect this acquisition will benefit AIG shareholders by providing AIG a powerful presence in the U.S. life insurance market. In addition, American General complements our existing retirement savings business through SunAmerica and positions AIG throughout the United States in consumer finance.

For some time now, AIG has been the leading U.S.-based international insurance and financial services organization, the largest underwriter of commercial insurance in the United States and the leading international life and general insurance organization. Following the acquisition of American General, we have also become one of the largest providers in the rapidly growing global retirement savings market and a leader in the domestic life insurance business. We have already identified major opportunities to enhance revenues by marketing AIG's innovative products through American General's distribution channels. And we expect the acquisition to be accretive to AIG's earnings.

With the acquisition of American General, I am more confident than ever that we have the world's best franchise in the insurance and financial services business and a platform for continuing our unrivaled record of growth and profitability. I fully expect it will create superior value for our shareholders.

Sincerely,

M. R. Greenberg

Re: American International Group, Inc.
Securities Litigation
Masterfile No. 04 Civ. 8141 (JES) (ASP)

Gentlemen:

Please exclude me from this Action for Settlement.

I owned 50 shares, purchased 7/31/03 @ $64.28 ea.
in my IRA account through my broker - see attached trade confirmations.

I sold these 50 shares 7/15/04 @ $69.75.

The matter is too small for me to be or become involved. Please exclude me.

Thank you,

Re: Sara J. Adair
Claimant ID No. 18202595

The purpose of this letter is to request exclusion of my late wife, Sara J. Adair, from the PwC Settlement Class in In re AIG Securities Litigation, Master File NO. 04-8141 (JES). My wife passed away August 7, 2007. Enclosed is a copy of her death certificate and the document appointing me personal representative of her estate. I can be reached at 303-797-6207.

Purchase date/price:	Sale dates/price:	# shares
4/15/2002 $72.413		25
	6/14/04 $72.99	10
	7/30/04 70.49	10
	9/30/04 67.86	5

Since the estimated average recovery per damaged share is approximately $0.06—a total of $1.50, I see no need to be involved any further in this case.

Please contact me if you need additional information.
